

DISC Assessments and Reports

Only 10% of the population has a single behavioural trait. The exercise of dividing the room only shows our predominant type. If you wish to have a more formal assessment (24 questions) to help you determine your blend and to receive a report that helps you understand your blend of types better please contact bill@mycoachbill.com to find out more.

These reports are available for children and teenagers as well to help them to do better in school. The assessments have online and paper versions. Team versions are also available allowing you to better identify roles in teams and to anticipate and correct problems before they occur.

The e-book containing an expanded version of this presentation is available for $9.95 on Amazon. To order yours go to mycoachbill.com/ec_ltcam and enter your name and email to receive yours for 1.99. You will receive periodic tips from me as well.
